Dear Barbara.
 I really don't know what to say, for in the words of the immortal Janyce Petrea, "All things written in year books are lies!" However, I shall try not to write anything too unbelievable. (In other words, I won't write anything they call lunches with you. I also enjoyed those complaining about Mr. Cluseman, talking about Julie and all those other teachers. I could go on, but this page is getting rather soggy with nostalgia (I guess that's how you spell it.) By the way, are you taking Latin next year?"

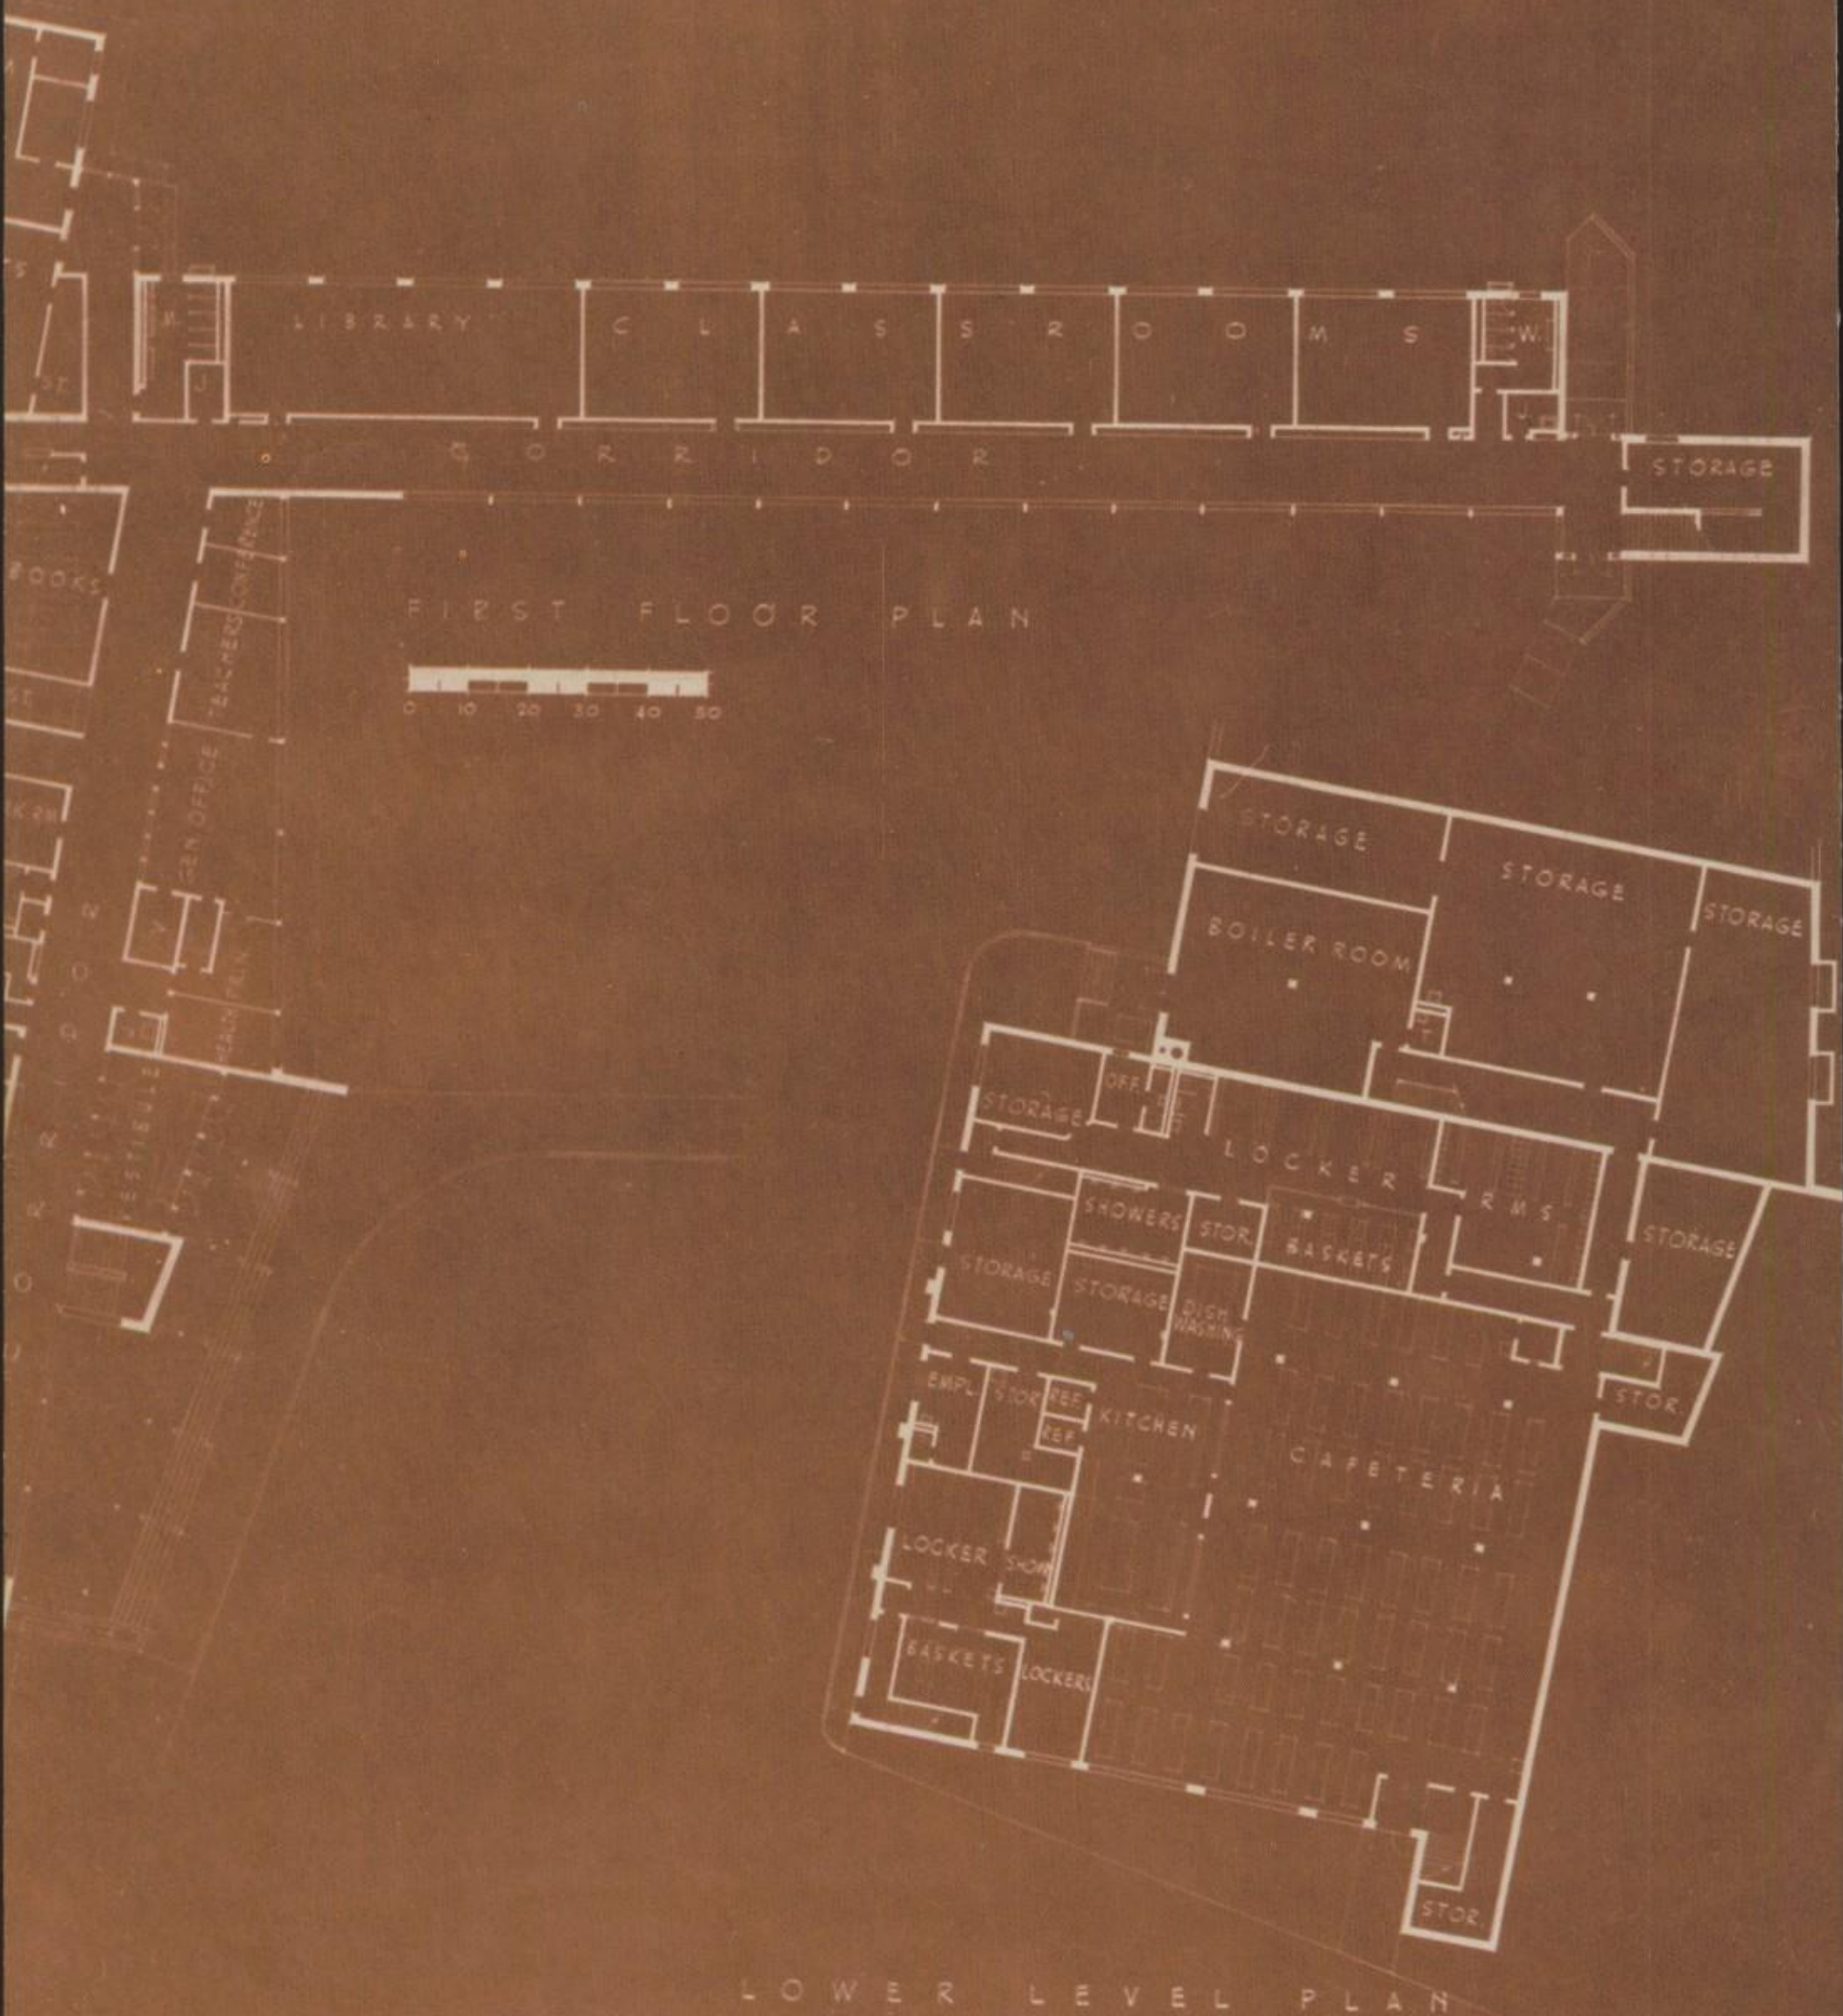

Joan Griffin
 (I wrote!)

Apartment Hunting Begins Problems

The first problem was finding an apartment. Sounds real simple, doesn't it? Well, that's what my sister--her name's Eileen--and I (Oh, yes--I'm Ruth Sherwood) thought too when we bitterly left Columbus to bestow our fabulous Acting and Writing Talents on the culturally impoverished city of New York. It just didn't turn out to be that easy. In fact, the moment that pompous Mr. Apopolous ceremoniously ushered us into his little basement "cell" I had a premonition that we would be wise to unceremoniously usher ourselves OUT. But Fate prevailed, and we took the "apartment", as it was so kindly called. Not that I minded the fact that the beds were hard as morgue slabs and that the wall had a peculiar tendency to ooze every now and then--Oh, no! All this I could have cheerfully taken in stride. But when the New York Subway Company began to methodically shake loose the foundation, well.....

But as I was saying, the apartment was just the first of our problems. It's not everyone who has to contend with singing basketball players, roving reporters, unexpected former tenants, and Portuguese Admirals when hunting for a job. And then there is... Oh, but I can't tell you that!!

Say! Why don't you come on over and see for yourself just what this is all about?? We'll all be at the Ferguson Junior High Auditorium on December 6th and 7th, so don't forget! Speaking with a slightly battered Voice of Experience, I can guarantee the escapades of "My Sister Eileen" (and friends!) will be nothing but a riot.

MHS Students Enjoy Tour

On October 14, seventy eight students, of which I was one, boarded a train in Union Station bound for Washington D.C. for a week of "painless learning." Accompanied by Miss Jerzewiak, Miss Kuppinger, and Dr. Ludwig, we visited buildings and locations which previously, to most of us, had been names in a history book: the Cap-

The purpose of the Art Club is to acquaint and promote the members with an understanding and appreciation for all types of art.

These students are the ones we have to thank for such worthwhile service projects as: the stained glass windows, the mural in the M-3 lobby and the various art exhibits held during the course of the year.

The sponsors are Mr. Voos and Mr. Buckman. The officers are: Pres. Barb Steiner, Vice-pres. Sue Raymond, and Sec.-Treas. Helen McReynolds.

CREATIVE WRITING CLUB

The creative writers meet bi-monthly in the home of their sponsor, Miss Nichols. Stimulating conversation and varied refreshments are enjoyed at each meeting. This year's project has been to compile all the "creative" works of previous members into a magazine, "Ink Spots."

Carr were able to join the National Forensic League, having attained the necessary twenty-five points. Sponsored by Mrs. Teneau, the members kept busy hearing international and college debates. They also participated in debates as well as being host school in forensic competition.

English Club

Like the Coin Club, the English Club is a new addition to the list of chartered organizations here at MHS. Formed to augment the curriculum of the English department by reading literary works not included in the regular classes and by discussing related subjects, it has been very successful in its initial year. The club meets every Thursday evening in the homes of its sponsors and members. The subject this year was "An Age of Kings," a book containing condensations of several of Shakespeare's plays. Their study included watching the presentations of these plays as broadcast each week by an educational television station. The English Club also sponsored a field trip to see "Richard III" at a St. Louis theater.

The 29th Annual Crest Coronation was held Saturday evening, February 23, 1963. The theme was "Camelot" and each maid and her escort descended from a medieval drawbridge at the entrance of a huge fairy tale castle. Marsha McMahon, Mistress of Ceremonies, told of the maid's activities while Bob Chapman, Master of Ceremonies, told of the escort's activities. Yasmin Dastgir, our foreign exchange student, served as an honorary maid. After the nine couples assembled under the royal canopy the 1963 Crest Queen, Nancy Heflin, was presented. Following her were her flower girl and crown bearer, Sharon Gish and Chip Gripenstroth. After the Master of Ceremonies crowned the Queen, the Court proceeded to the Royal Dance where Nolan Crane's Orchestra provided the music.

Varsity Football

Running from a powerful and deceptive Multiple "T" Offense, the Comets in sky-blue jerseys completely frustrated eight very worthy opponents as they proudly and methodically rolled to an undefeated and untied season. Working behind a big, tough, and agile line, the highly-talented backfield ran and passed for twenty-six touchdowns as our Suburban Big Eight Champions outscored their opponents 171 points to 60 points. Virtually all of the schools individual and team statistical records were shattered.

Bud Wilkinson, famous coach at the University of Oklahoma has said this about the game of football:

"There is no substitute for desire to win (spirit), physical condition, and good athletes. Any team that has these elements and is well-coached in a sound offense and defense will be successful."

The McCluer High School student body can be proud of their Suburban Big Eight Champions: This team had a great spirit, they worked and trained diligently, and there were many superior athletes. The offense always moved the ball well, while the defense was rugged and stingy.

A fine "team effort" was displayed in all games; however, many individuals were selected by the St. Louis newspapers at the end of the season for special honors. Halfback Rich Bernsen and center Don Vogt were selected as All-State, All-District, and All-Suburban Big Eight. Guard Pete Politi was second team All-District and All-Suburban Big Eight, while tackle Roger Short was an All-Suburban Big Eight second team selection. Honorable mentions went to end Skip Aubuchon, tackle Terry Johnson, guard Dee Ingerson, and tackle John Burns.

Other outstanding individuals overlooked by the newspapers but highly respected by the coaching staff would have to include halfback Bobbie McGuire, end Ed Eberhart, end Fred Kastning, and the only junior quarterback in the league, Tom Lombardo. The fullback spot was capably handled by three underclassmen; Terry Miller, Reavis Montrey, and Ben Hamilton. Mike Mueller, a converted end, proved to be the finest defensive halfback to ever roam the secondary.

Rich Bernsen and Ed Eberhart served as Co-Captains.

Sophomore Football

McCluer's B-team football played its first game against U-City, September 27. The final score was U-City 38-McCluer 12. Both of the touchdowns for the B-team were scored by passes, completed to Pitliangas and Marten. Their second game, which was played in the rain against Webster ended in a win for Webster 27-6. McCluer's score was a 50-yard pass interception by Doug Dunlap. The third game went to Kirkwood by a 25-6 margin. Rod Stoecklin played good offensive ball and scored McCluer's only touchdown, which was set up by a tremendous one hand catch by Dave Nixon. Gary Davis was a strong fullback all year and Jim Mueller was a standout as defensive back. The B-team was hampered by the loss of eight sophomores to the varsity squad.

This year's basketball Comets began the season with three returning lettermen, Bob McGuire, John Munroe, and Harold Wright (all seniors). Playing alongside them were six additional seniors and ten juniors with Dave Wolfersberger lending aid as student manager.

In the state's toughest basketball league, the Suburban Big Ten, our Comets downed all but state tournament semi-finalist Normandy, and strong teams from Kirkwood and Webster Groves. They accomplished this even though the team's leading scorer, John Munroe, was missing during a large part of the season due to injury and sickness.

Captain Bob McGuire led the Comets in three tournaments. They were eliminated early in the Normandy Christmas Tournament, but took the Consolation trophy in the Webster Tournament. This was done with the talents of several Juniors led by Corky Brauch, the team's third leading scorer, who backed up and often surpassed our seniors.

The Comets ended the season by taking fourth place in the tough Berkeley Regional Tournament.

The group of talented juniors and a promising sophomore team have what it takes to give McCluer a fine team next season.

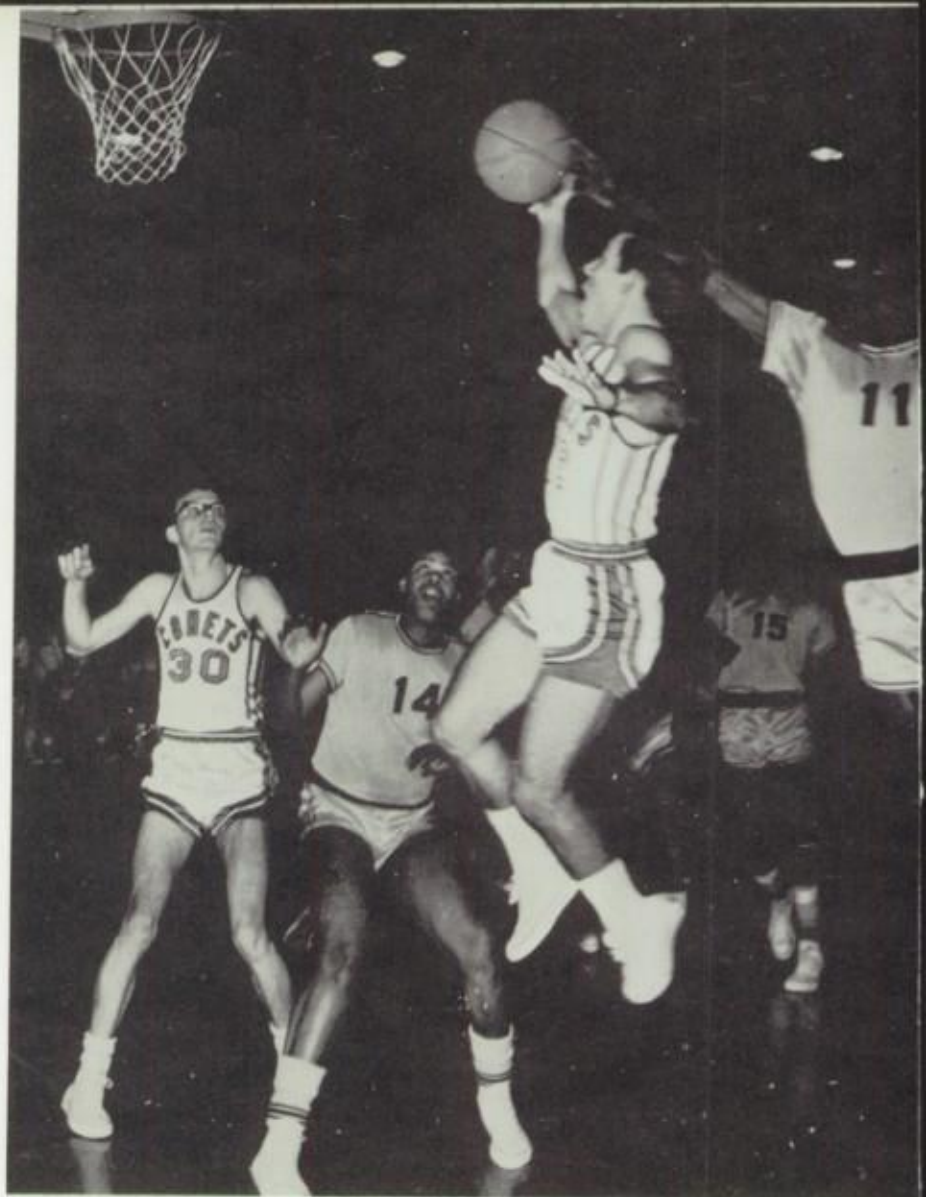

B-Team

McCluer High basketball fans witnessed another fine sophomore team this year. Captained by Craig Rees, the sophomores won seventeen of their twenty games and promise to provide important additions to next year's varsity. Good luck to Coach Fredricks. We hope his second year and all those that follow are as successful as his first as our sophomore basketball coach was.

The McCluer weightlifting team has increased from four lifters at its inception two years ago, to fifteen lifters at present. During the year the lifters compete in State, district, and local weightlifting meets which are sponsored by the A. A. U. They compete in seven weight classes which are: 123 lb, 132 lb, 148 lb, 165 lb, 181 lb, 198 lb, and heavywt. There are three lifts which each lifter performs, which are the press, snatch, and clean and jerk. The total poundage of these three lifts determines how the lifter will place in a meet.

During the past year several of the lifters have placed high in competition, winning trophies and medals, including two first place winners in the Missouri State Weightlifting Championships.
